

A business should respect the privacy of their customers. They should not be allowed to sell or use personal information to make a profit. Customers are going to them for a service only, not because they want to be harassed. We have a phone for our personel use not for an advertising tool for business. We pay our bank fees shouldn't that be enough. How much money do executives really need???